The Third Edition 2024 - 2025

An initiative that brings the transformative power of music directly to the homes of individuals in need.

A MUSICAL WAY OF SAYING THAT WE CARE

A WORD FROM THE TEAM

Music has always been a source of comfort and solace in times of trouble. In a world struggling with ongoing conflicts, climate change, new political landscapes, and the relentless pressure to succeed or simply survive, we are confronted with our own personal challenges, trying to find our place in all this turmoil. In times like these the need for art as a means of healing is more urgent than ever.

Sounds For The Soul continues to bring hope, providing personal, one-on-one classical music experiences that allow individuals to reflect on their challenges from a new perspective.

A musical way of saying that we care.

A MUSICAL GIFT FOR YOU

Are you feeling overwhelmed, stressed, or in need of some emotional support? Perhaps you're experiencing loss, heartbreak, or just a sense of unease. No matter what you're going through, Sounds For The Soul offers a unique opportunity to connect with a professional, classically trained musician for a personalized, in-home concert designed to resonate with your emotions and provide comfort and reflection.

All we ask is that you briefly explain what you are struggling with at the moment, and we will match you with one of our musicians, who will listen and then perform a piece of music selected specifically for you. This is a reflection of your feelings - a chance to see your situation from a new angle and find peace through music.

MEET THE MUSICIANS

Our performers are professional classical musicians who typically grace the stages of Europe and beyond. They are trained for the Sounds For The Soul project to ensure each encounter is conducted with empathy, respect, and understanding.

Our talented lineup includes: Sofie Vanden Eynde - Lute; Christophe Pochet - Violin; Victor Guaita - Viola; Nadia Hidali - Voice; Dries Tack - Clarinet; Corentin Dellicour - Cello; Suzanne Vermeylen - Cello; Kristien Keuppens - Oboe & English Horn; Anne Bernard - Viola da Gamba

In the comfort of your home.

A musical way of saying that we care.
